MAKE THE WORLD'S BEST KITCHENS & CABINETS IN INDIA

When we decided to start our kitchen and wardrobes division, we realised that unlike soft furniture manufacturing, cabinetry was altogether a different industry.

With years of global study, we realised that the Cabinetry Culture originally started in Germany in sixties. By the eighties, while Germany had over a hundred manufacturing brands and many of these brands sold kitchens and wardrobes across the world, the Italians improvised with their innovative designs and by the two thousands, German and Italian brands competed for global cabinetry supremacy.

While in pursuit, we identified a German master cabinet maker with over three decades of experience in German precision manufacturing, a French Canadian carpenter and an Italian designer with exceptional product design skills.

In 2018, we set up a new state-of-the-art facility which has the flexibility of combining latest automated precision manufacturing with artisanal handcraft skills.

This gave birth to Stanley Cabinetry Cult, a new hybrid method of manufacturing using the best materials sourced globally and incorporating exceptional craftsmanship, thus having the potential to produce the finest quality of artisanal kitchens and cabinetry, which can be the very best in the world.
